"I am very grateful to the organizers of the contest Maya. You helped to reveal and expose the actual problem and severity of drug addiction. The global scale of the contest impressed me and my friends who followed the contest day by day! The message of your mission is obvious- only together we can withstand drug pandemic!", said Fayzulla Al Amine in his letter to World League "Mind Free of Drugs".

One can safely say that the World League has achieved its main goal- to attract the attention of the Internet community to the seriousness of the drug addiction problem. More information about the contest and questions of the participants can be found at www.mayaplanet.org/eng/polls.
